HILTON MARIETTA, ATLANTA, GEORGIA

Workshop Leader		Chuck Stecker
Chuck Stecker is founder and president of A Chosen Generation www.achosengeneration.org
Workshop: Thursday, Nov. 11 10:00 a.m.
Chuck uniquely combines several years of business experience, 23 years of military service and over 13 years of full-time ministry to bring forth a clear strategy to equip, train, empower and release a new generation of leaders. He has a passion to see churches return to truly intergenerational communities and develop the clear pathways that keep young adults actively connected to their churches and see them develop into the leaders that will impact every area of our society.

Workshop Leader		Cavin Harper
Cavin Harper is founder and president of Christian Grandparenting Network http://www.christiangrandparenting.net/ He is a graduate of Baylor University and Denver Seminary, and has served as a pastor and a businessman.
Workshop: Thursday, Nov. 11, 10:00 a.m. Too Important to Lose: A Grandparent's Plan for Building a Legacy of Blessing
Grandchildren need grandparents who, like the men of Issachar, understand the times and know what to do – grandparents who will choose to live as conduits of God's grace for a new generation. This workshop will examine some of the dangerous cultural trends that influence our grandkids, and how to build a legacy of blessing as an effective weapon against the attacks of the Enemy.

Workshop Leader		Dr. Michael Sharp
Michael Sharp, PhD is professor of Worship Studies at New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary, Atlanta Campus. www.nobts.edu
Workshop: Thursday, November 11, 10:00 a.m. Worship: Finding the Bridge Over the Troubled Waters
As a professor of Worship Studies and a worship leader, composer and musician himself, Michael has experienced some of the tensions found in developing meaningful worship experiences for all generations. His research, experience and insights will help participants understand what is behind the "worship wars" and how to find peace in troubled times.

HILTON MARIETTA, ATLANTA, GEORGIA

Workshop Leader		Chris Holck
Chris Holck is Director of ENCORE for the Evangelical Free Church of America, is founder and director for Encore Generation, Inc., and is a mobilizer for English Language Institute/China.
Workshop: Thursday, November 11, 11:30 a.m. Encore: Helping Boomers Create a Second Act
All Christians are interested to know their spiritual birthright but Boomers are particularly restless to know what unique contribution God has for them. The role of someone who shepherds those in mid-life is to help them discover their God-given purpose and guide them in how they can do their part for the Kingdom. This workshop will offer practical tools for you to use so that you can help your Boomers find their sweet spot and then courageously leave their comfort zone in order to use their talents for God's glory.

Workshop Leader		Wes and Judy Wick
Wes and Judy Wick are the founders of YES! Young Enough to Serve, an interdenominational ministry focused on tapping the full potential of adults in life's second half. Their passion is helping Christian adults and churches experience wholeness through intergenerational influence and service. www.yestoserve.org
Workshop: Thursday, November 11, 11:30 a.m. Making the Second Half Whole
We may be convinced how much younger generations need us, but do we realize how much we need them? This workshop focuses on engaging the first half in second half adult leadership and ministry. We challenge the assumptions 1) that only adults over 50 care about 50+ adults, 2) that we know how best to influence younger generations without their input, and 3) that we don't need younger generations to be truly effective in second half adult ministry. Learn how to pull younger generations into your adult leadership so intergenerational relationship becomes an integral part of your ministry and planning process.

Workshop Leader	Doug Fagerstrom
Dr. Doug Fagerstrom is the senior vice president of Converge Worldwide. A Bethel Seminary graduate, he has served as a youth pastor, minister of music, single adult pastor, co-pastor, pastor of adult ministries and executive pastor, including three Converge (BGC) churches. He is the former president of Grand Rapids Seminary. He has spoken at many conferences, served as adjunct professor, trained more than 100 church planters and is executive director of the Network of Single Adult Leaders. He is author of the book the Volunteer: A Personal Toolkit for the Dedicated Volunteer.
Workshop: Thursday, November 11th, 11:30 a.m. Laying Bricks or Building Cathedrals? Inviting, Training and Motivating Volunteers
Volunteering in the church and other Christ-centered ministries can be one of the most fulfilling, rewarding, and significant experiences in your life. In fact, it should be most meaningful and contagious. At the end of the day, volunteering is personal engagement in the work of God, and ultimately, results in transformed lives. The final outcome will be measured only in eternity, but the payback now and later can be enormous. (The Volunteer p. ii)

Workshop Leader	Peggy Fulghum
Peggy Fulghum manages all aspects of senior adult ministries at Johnson Ferry Baptist Church, Marietta GA, including Bible Studies and activities for the Boomer and Builder cohorts. An advocate for senior adults, Peggy started ministries for the mind, body and spirit, encouraging continued education, seniors ministering to seniors and intergenerational ministries. Peggy, M.Div., is continuing studies toward a Doctorate of Divinity from New Orleans Baptist Seminary.
Workshop: Friday, November 12 - 10:15 a.m. Ministering to the Body, Mind and Soul
A brain-storming session to include ministry ideas to strengthen and sustain the three threads of the Christian's life while on this earth. The Mind and Body and the Soul are interwoven and critically important to the other two to ensure a whole and healthy life. Just as stretching the body through physical exercise and maintaining the proper nutrition and care, so the mind and spirit must be maintained and nourished. Stretching the mind may include learning new skills such as computer, book clubs, and in-depth Bible studies to enable better mentoring skills to younger adults. As the mind and body ages it is critically important that the spirit be stretched through active prayer, meditation, tithing, mission trips, mentoring and ministering to others. As the mind or body weakens it is especially important to maintain a strong, deep and abiding faith. During this session we will explore ministry ideas for ministry to the mind, body and spirit of our aging populations.

Workshop Leader		Ted Sprague
Ted Sprague is founder and president of Witness Breakthrough. In addition to being an avid golfer, he has served as the executive director for the Georgia Golf Hall of Fame, Marketing Director for the Jack Nicklaus Museum, and founder of the Augusta Golf and Garden attraction. He has been involved in the destination marketing industry, serving as president of both the Atlanta and Phoenix Valley of the Sun Convention &amp; Visitors Bureau. His ministry passion is teaching people to share their faith. www.witnessbreakthrough.org
Workshop: Friday, November 12 - 10:15 a.m. "Amen Corner" or Before It's Too Late
Young people need Christian role models who are not only doing church work but also the work of the church... multiplying the gospel.. This session is about learning how to share our faith with people of any age and in any place -- even the golf course.
		Ted Sprague

Workshop Leader		Amy Hanson
Amy Hanson is a gerontologist and older adult ministry specialist. www.amyhanson.net
Workshop: Friday, November 12 - 10:15 a.m. Unprecedented Impact: Helping Boomers Embrace a Kingdom Vision for Retirement
How can the church minister to people as they approach this season of their lives called "retirement?" This session will discuss the different phases of retirement and ways of providing ministry to people as they navigate them.

Workshop Leader		Richard Bergstrom
Richard Bergstrom, D.Min., is founder and president of ChurchHealth, an organization dedicated to developing healthy churches, pastors and leaders. He currently serves as an Executive pastor, has served as a senior pastor, denominational leader and church consultant.
Workshop: Friday, November 12 - 10:15 a.m. Pastors to Pastures: What Happens to Church Leaders After Age 50?
Richard will lead a panel of ministry leaders including Dr. Gordon MacDonald and Dr. Doug Fagerstrom as they discuss the challenges and concerns of pastors and leaders in the second half of life. What happens to displaced pastors/leaders? Are there too many Boomer pastors and not enough places for them to serve? Does God's calling to ministry end at retirement?
