EFCA NATIONAL WOMEN'S MINISTRIES

What is a BWT?

Bringing Women Together (BWT)

events are hosted across the country in different districts and churches by an EFCA Women's Ministries National Networker committed to equip, encourage and empower women for ministry within their local church.

BWTs provide you an opportunity to network with other EFCA women around our National Women's Ministries.

Who is a National Networker?

She is a member of the EFCA Women's Ministries National Networking Team serving with the National Women's Ministries Director, Jackie Redmond, and is committed to help grow healthy women's ministries in local churches.

Networkers provide resource information and instruction on building healthy women's ministries.

Networkers are certified facilitators for the Leadership Development Workshops, have attended the Women's Ministries Internship and are passionate about the philosophy of Women's Ministries in the EFCA.

Who Can Attend a BWT?

- * Women in Evangelical Free Churches serving women in their local churches.
- * BWTs will seek to answer questions on beginning and sustaining women's ministries.
- * BWTs provide a safe place for women to be equipped and to network with other women who care about women.

What Attendees are Saying?

"I was inspired and equipped to step into a new women's ministries role by attending a BWT. Thank you for helping us catch the vision for our churches women's ministries."

What Can I Expect?

BWTs are typically a one-day event that includes a time of worship, prayer, Biblical teaching, equipping and a time for questions and answers.

BWTs are planned by and hosted by one of a National Women's Ministries Team serving one of our EFCA districts women's ministries.

How Do I Attend a BWT?

For BWT dates, locations and registration information contact the EFCA Women's Ministries National Office or your district's National Networker.

Current BWTs are also listed on the EFCA website's calendar.
